A Novel Project.—It is proposed to have pipe lines laid from the oil regions to the scaboard, for the purpose of sending oil through to our large cities without incurring the delays and immense portation. The project may look incredible upon its face, but why should it not be successfully earned through? It is politics on the street corners, politics on the street corners, politics in saloons, hotels, stores, shops, offices—everywhere. Mechanics have thrown down their tools and taken to the streets, determined to give two instead of one day to the State. In passing along the streets, from each gap of by standers you catch such sounds as "Fusion," "Republicans," "Democrata," "Tax-Payers," and hear such names in hurried discourse as "Edgerton" and "Grove Johnson." With the CHARACTER OF THE CONTEST your readers have been made acquainted, if not familiar, by your own excellent news journal. It is a triangular fight, and the question is "Who'll win?" Your readers will know long before this reaches you.

TO-MORROW! TO-MORROW!

Yes, to-morrow will decide the questions which are disturbing the smooth, even surface of our body politic. The Republicans are working with a will and a seeming hope. The Democrats hope eaching averal in fusion.

A Noven Procret.—It is proposed to have pipe lines laid from the oil regions to the saconal, for the purposes of its present of sending oil through to our large cities withing oil through to our large cities without the sace, but why should it not be successfully earned through? It would puzzle one to mention a really sound, adverse reason. Thirty years ago, as yet have York Graphic, the Croton Aqueduct was looked upon not little less than a miracle. But with the rapid advance of mechanical pursuits in this yound and avery for a pipe line of void pursuits in the successfully earned through? A NEWSPAPER COTTESPENDENT, describing a seeming hope. The Democrats hope nothing except in fusion. And fusion is all the talk on the streets. Of course the leaders and committee men keep their own counsels.

perhaps will not be such as to make any great difference to the people as a community, let whichever ticket prevail. The C. P. R. will keep on, regardless of parties or partisans. The threats that have been put forward by one of the Republican papers, to the effect that if The C. P. R. R will keep on, regardless of parties or partisans. The threats that have been put forward by one of the Republican papers, to the effect that if the Tax-Payers' ticket was elected the Railroad Company would remove their workshop from this city will not be carried into execution. ried into execution unless it be their manifest interest to do so.

THE COMING STATE AGRICULTURAL PAIR, promises to surpass all that have preceeded it-at least in the stock department. Accommodations for stock have been greatly increased. Such are the preparations going forward that Mr. Carey, the President of the Society, is engaged exclusively in the work, and finds more than his hands can do. The premium list is both heavy and attractive. Hotel keepers have enlarged their accommodations in anticipation of an unusual crowd of visitors. OUR STREETS present an inviting appearance, especially to a Sagebrusher. The dust is kept down upon all the graded streets at the public expense, and each side of all the improved streets is lined with shade trees of vigorous growth. A good time to visit Sacramento is during the State Fair, which commences the 15th inst., and continues to the 20th. The races, always an attractive feature of the Fair, promises to exceed anything that has preceded it on this coast. A MEAN TRICK.

Our city does not allow barbarous amusements on the Sabbath; to avoid this ordinance, a Hibernian and a Jew, a few Sabbaths ago, stepped outside of the Groceries, city limits to settle a matter of grievance, which, it was mutually agreed, should be conducted according to the time-honored rules of the P. R. Preliminaries disposed of, each "shied his lat" and entered for business. The Jew "worked vigorously" the first, the second, the third and fourth rounds. The Hibernian, knowing the value of wind and muscle in the ending of such contests, husbanded his resources. The consequences were that he received a considerable degree of the received a punishment these first four rounds. On coming to the scratch for the fifth round it was discovered the Jew went slow to his work—showed signs of fatigue and exhaustion, and the Hibernian seemed fresh and vigorous—it fact it was evident he was just ready for acting. No sooner did he put in a lick or two, than, up went the sponge. The fight was over; the Jew was without a scratch, but the Hibernian went around the streets next day-being unable to pursue his usual avocation— with his head done up in lint and bandages, and his "peepers" in mourning. It leaked out afterwards that the Jew meant to fight just as long as he could punish the Irishman and whenever it came to his turn to throw up the sponge. That's what I call a mean trick, Why didn't he stand up and take his blows—suffer dislocation of his jaw, his face to be mashed into jelly, his eyes punched out and his teeth sent down into his bread basket a true man? that's what I'd like to known! MURDER TRIALS.

The Celestials, a few months since, indulged in a hatchet amusement on the corner of I and Third streets. In due time against two or three of them and our OUR GOODS ARE FRESH AND Three doors below Wel's, Fargo & Co District Court put Ah Fat, one of the indicted, on trial. The trial lasted three days. The jury were kept out, "considering of their verdict" one night and one day, when, failing to agree, they were discharged. discharged. Demanding an imu trial, another jury was summoned and impaneled and Ah Fat was again put on trial and, this time, after nearly a similar length of trial, the jury agreel on a verdiet of coulty in the second degree lar length of trial, the jury agreed on a verdict of guilty in the second degree—so reported—but after they had agreed, and before they could be marched into the court-room, one of the jurors became prostrated by sickness, and, as Sheriff laryte expresses it, was in a dying condition before announcement could be made to the Court. The eleven made this report and the Court again discharged the panel, and against the prothis report and the Court again as charged the panel, and against the pro-testations of Ah Fat's attorneys remand-ed said Ah Fat to jail for another trial,

A sronr is in circulation which tells how a fair young lady went to a drug store and told the man to fix her up one dose of easter oil, and to mix it with something to take the taste away. The something to take the taste away. The man told her to wait. In a few mo-ments he asked her if she felt like takments he asked her if she fell like taking a glass of soda water. She accepted the invitation and drank the beverage.
Presently she asked the seller of pills
why he didn't give her the castor oil.
The man smiled a triumphant smile, and said "Madam, you have taken it. I mixed a powerful dose with that soda."
She turned pale; she sank into a chair;
she gasped, "Immortal Jove! I wanted

THE pleasant little rivalry between St. Louis and Chicago flourishes in full vigor. Here are the head lims of an article in a St. Louis baper: "Foo thin. Chicago has 4,775 More Business Houses than St. Louis. But 1,197 of Them are Grog Shops. She Bests Us also in Pawn Shops and Undertakers."
